

The results page
also has a
search bar

A hand-drawn sketch of a search results page layout. At the top, there is a header bar containing a hamburger menu icon (three horizontal lines) on the left and a small square logo with the letters 'wso' on the right. Below the header is a large rectangular frame representing the main content area. Inside this frame, at the top, is a search bar consisting of a long rectangular input field, a magnifying glass icon inside a small square, and a checkmark icon to the right. Below the search bar, the text 'Matches: 37' is written. Underneath this text is a 2x2 grid of four rectangular boxes. The top two boxes are tall and empty, while the bottom two boxes are shorter and contain a wavy line above three small circles, representing a match result. The entire sketch is drawn with simple black lines on a white background.

On the search
results page
the matches
are shown
below the
search bar

if search results
are over one
page they are
paginated